

Major Entertainment Series Brings Feri Roth With His String Quartet

Music Ensemble Will Make Second Appearance Here November 20.

Will Use Fine Instruments

Members Practice Daily for Five Hours—Three Together and Two Individually.

Feri Roth and his string quartet will bring to the College its last major entertainment of this quarter when they present their concert, Wednesday evening, November 20, at 8:00 p. m.

This will be the second appearance in Maryville of the famed ensemble; the last was in May, 1944. However, the membership in the group has been changed. It now includes Feri Roth, first violin; Josef Smilovitz, second violin; Sendor Salgo, viola; and Janas Scholz, cello.

The quartet has distinguished itself as being one of the best in the world according to the San Francisco Chronicle Columnist, Spencer Barefoot. Their program in Berkeley, California, contained excellent ensemble work, "exquisite tone, and unflinching beauty of interpretation."

Mr. Roth organized the quartet in 1922 and it has enjoyed a maximum success in the years following. Members of the quartet practice five hours daily, three hours together and two hours separately. Regardless of the weather or predicament, Mr. Roth feels they must practice.

The perfect tone quality acquired by each member is partly due to the excellence of the instrument he plays. At the 1944 performance in Maryville, the two violins were the work of Paolo Antonio Testore, famous pupil of Stradivarius.

The program they plan to play includes "Kocul 387" by Mozart, "Opus 10" by Debussy, "Andante Contabile" by Tchaikovsky, and "Rondo" by Haydn.

Former Student Visits His Major Department

Mr. Ralph King, a former Industrial-Arts student and teaching assistant, was a recent visitor of the department.

Since returning from service in China, Mr. King has been employed by the Fluor Engineering Corporation of Kansas City, Missouri. Mr. King informed members of the department that he is to be transferred by this corporation to their office in Los Angeles, California, where he will continue to be employed as an engineering draftsman.

College Closes for Airport Dedication

Jesse Dean Taylor Brings Squadron of Planes to Give Demonstration.

Activity at the College was suspended on the afternoon of October 24 so that students could join townspeople and many out-of-town visitors in seeing a part of their Navy air force in action when Commander Jesse Dean Taylor, a graduate of the College, led his squadron through their simulated attacks and acrobatic maneuvers at the local airport. Commander Taylor and his men joined with local airmen as they dedicated the airport to the memory of Nodaway County citizens who gave their all in World War II.

Although a 30-mile an hour wind prevailed and the field was wet from a recent rain, the Navy planes presented their entire program concluding with a special exhibition of acrobatic stunts by Commander Taylor. Seventeen Navy planes were here for the occasion. Twelve of those in the (Liborne group left for St. Louis immediately after the exhibition.

In the group were Hellcats, Corsairs, and torpedo dive bombers. A twin engine Beech, used for transporting Navy personnel, was the largest plane to land. Four other Navy planes, a Hellcat F6F, a Grumman Avenger, a P4U Corsair, and a SB2C Helldiver, were inspected by the spectators.

The feature stunt of the afternoon came when Bob Goebels of Tarkio stepped out of his plane and cranked it after the pilot had cut off the engine and stalled the plane over the airfield. He then crawled back into the cabin as the high wind was beating against him.

Speeches were delivered by Mayor Emery Alry, Ray Weightman, representing the veterans' organizations, and Henry Blanchard, chairman of the airport commission. The Rev. Robert Holliday, Methodist minister, gave the invocation and benediction. Mr. Sterling Surrey, a member of the College faculty, announced the afternoon's events.

Religion Stressed Here This Week

Opening Sunday, Activities Go on Through Today; Public Invited.

Realizing that Christian religion has played a large part in the development of these United States and in the lives of so many of the citizens of this country, the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College is continuing its program. This year of setting aside one week in which attention will be especially directed to religious matters. The regular social calendar is being cancelled so that time and opportunity can be provided for attendance at the regularly scheduled meetings.

The series of meetings began with a union meeting in the Horace Mann auditorium. The Reverend Joseph H. Wagner, director of religious education of the Maryville Methodist church, addressed this meeting. Mr. Wagner also conducted afternoon meetings at 4:00 P. M., Monday through Thursday, the general topic being "Christian Ethics for Today."

Dr. Amos Thornburg, minister of the Grace Methodist church of St. Louis, was the speaker both morning and evening, Monday and Tuesday. Dr. Thornburg has held pastorates in Providence, Rhode Island, and in Chicago, Sterling, Aurora, and Wilmette, Illinois. Dr. Thornburg has been widely accepted and has given, largely of his time in conference and institute work. He is a dynamic speaker.

The Reverend Lawrence W. Bash, minister of the Wyatt Park Christian church of St. Joseph, had charge of the morning and evening services yesterday and is speaking today. Mr. Bash came highly recommended as an outstanding young minister and speaker. He is a former associate president of the Christian Endeavor of the U. S. A., is at the present time a vice-president of the International Society of Christian Endeavor, and is sponsor of the St. Joseph Youth Council.

The students chose as the central theme for this series of meetings "Commitment." The formal program is found elsewhere in this issue.

These meetings are open to the public. It is hoped each year that the Christian people and church organizations of Maryville and surrounding communities may take a real interest in these services to the end that this Week of Religious Emphasis may be a time of blessing, not only for the College and this community but also for all the territory served by the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College.

Russell Day Talks and Shows Berlin Pictures

A short movie and talk on the Russian occupation of Berlin were given in the College auditorium the night of October 29, at 7:30, by Russell Day, former Maryville resident and former manager of the hotel Balm.

Mr. Day took the pictures while serving in the European theater as an Army photographer. Some were very hard to get because of Russian restrictions.

Stressing the fact that he did not want to be an alarmist, Mr. Day urged that everyone must do his part to prevent the hard-won peace from slipping away. He also emphasized the fact that because of the publishing and broadcasting of many conflicting stories it is quite difficult for the public to grasp the true picture of world conditions and events.

The movie was quite educational, showing Berlin as a whole, as it appeared at the entrance of U. S. troops; the German work lines in the Russian Occupation zone; German concentration camps; and general destruction of the war in different areas.

Students Give Programs Before Bethany Groups

A group of college students from the Music and Speech departments presented a program for several organizations at Bethany, October 24. The program was presented to the Rotary Club at noon, the high school in the afternoon, and the Kiwanis Club at night.

The third section of the program contained three vocal selections presented by Leona Downing. The numbers were "I've Told Every Little Star," "One Alone," and "Summertime."

The program concluded with Norman Hoffman in a pantomime, "At the Gum Machine."

Mrs. Ramona Canton of the Speech department accompanied the group.

Assembly Speaker Talks About China

T. Q. Morrison Shows Why Chinese Problems Are Important to U. S.

Mr. Thomas Q. Morrison, social analyst and world traveler, spoke at the assembly, October 23. Mr. Morrison, who related problems of China, stated that he wished only to outline the topic of his speech and then hold an open forum. "For," he said, "any speaker should allow his audience to talk back."

His summary explained why Americans should be interested in China and the Far East. In the first place, according to the speaker, Marco Polo's knowledge of China was carried to America by Columbus, who fashioned a career after him.

Secondly, he asserted the Americans were saved economically by China. After the American Revolution, the United States was tied down economically to Great Britain until the Chinese trade changed this.

"The Chinese have been glad to deal with the U. S. since this country was the first to consider China's feelings and have respect for her sovereignty," said Mr. Morrison. The U. S. also made the first treaty with her. Mr. Morrison pointed out that American troops were sent to the Boxer Rebellion to protect the Chinese and for many years American statesmen helped sell Chinese foreign policies all over the world. The Americans have protected China; during the time when the Japanese presented their twenty-one demands, the Americans forced them to withdraw the demands.

China's difficulty, Mr. Morrison explained, is the continual war between the "haves" and the "have-nots," or between the royalty and the lower class; or the social struggle between the few powerful people and the little people struggling miserably.

Mr. Morrison said that China is bound to be influenced by the United States or Russia; but the question is: "Are Americans still in favor of helping the under-dog?" He expressed the idea that Americans have changed too much in ideals in the past century. He said "America is great because she is good, and when she stops being good she will also stop being great."

The reading of the 135th Psalm, a prayer, led by Helen South, were the opening numbers on the program. Mr. Uel W. Lamkin, president-emeritus of the College, discussed the airport dedication and proudly laid claim of the College to Commander Jesse Dean Taylor and Lt. Col. L. M. Eek, who participated in the air show. Mr. Lamkin then introduced the speaker.

Delegates From College Attend Teachers' Meet

College Cooperates With N. E. A. Plan to Have Convocation Daily.

The week November 10-16 has been set apart as National Education week. The College community is following the general plan recommended by the National Education Association of having, each day, a convocation in which important issues of today's education will be stressed.

The daily convocation at the College, Monday through Friday, will be from 1:30 to 2:00 p. m. the first four days. The last meeting will be at 10:00 a. m. Friday, November 15.

Monday, November 11, at 1:30 the convocation will be in recognition of Armistice Day.

Wednesday, November 13, Miss Helen Parsons, of the Child Welfare Board, will speak on the subject "The welfare of the people."

Thursday, November 14, President Emeritus Uel W. Lamkin will take as his topic "Facing New Problems."

Friday, November 15, at 10:00, Mrs. Winifred Walker, of the American Platform Guild and The Society of Women Geographers, will give an illustrated lecture on "Europe Today." The pictures she will show are recent ones. Mrs. Walker gave a lecture last year here at the College on Australia and New Zealand.

Concert Pianist Is Well Received

Mrs. Katherine Johnson Is Gracious With Encores Audience Request.

Displaying a keen appreciation of the poetic quality of music, Mrs. Katherine Johnson, of the Northwest State Teachers College in Alameda, South Dakota, entertained at the regular assembly, October 28.

Mrs. Johnson, who has given concerts extensively, was well received by an enthusiastic audience. Her brilliant technique was evident in the playing of Beethoven's "Sonata Opus 57," including the three parts "Allegro Assai," "Andante con moto," and "Allegro Ma Non Troppo." She played Chopin's Waltz in D Flat and "Nocturne in C Minor" after a brief pause, and continued with two selections from Debussy, "Reflections on the Water" and "Fireworks."

Mrs. Johnson began the last phase of her varied program with "Divertimento," a modern number written by her husband, Merrito Johnson. She then played Liszt's "Dance of the Gnomes" and concluded with the beautiful and spirited "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2," also by Liszt.

An insistent audience persuaded her to reappear and give De Falla's "Ritual Fire Dance" and Saver's "Music Box."

Dr. Blanche Dow, chairman of the assembly program committee, introduced Mrs. Johnson.

Wild Geese Are Flying

Ordinarily the wild geese fly to and fro with the change of our seasons with no particular appreciation from us other than their musical squawk, or "Honk, honk," and then we repeat, "Spring is here!" or "Cold weather is on the way!"

But when we are requested to observe their flights, and to take notice of the time and frequency, and number in each flock, there seems to be some new interest or warning that their numbers may be decreasing.

Some members of the Audubon Society have been asked to report such migrations as can be seen or heard. Observations so far find but few flocks flying south, most of them at night.

The Wild Life Research desires to know the routes of the Canadian Geese across this state on their way to the winter feeding grounds. Do they have definite fly ways? Do they follow the Missouri River to the Mississippi River?

Will anyone who sees or hears any wild geese kindly report the time and number of flocks to Mr. Arthur J. Cauffman of the Department of Geography?

These students, now officially accepted as members of a nation-wide organization, are as follows: Myrtle Lee Burns Weston; Samuel Eugene Cross, Benton, Iowa; Robert Charles Davis, 3503 Monterey, St. Joseph; Janet Elaine Drennan, 707 Loomis Avenue, Corns, Iowa; Ronald Dan Ensign, Cameron; Flora M. Flores, Puntarenas, Costa Rica, Central America; Alta Lorene Jensen, Stanberry; H. Errol Myers, Ringsted, Iowa; Betty Myrtle Neill, Bethany; Glenn Franklin Singleton, Smithville; Odd Steinsholt, Hedrum, Norway.

Services to the school, campus activities, scholarship, and membership in honorary and social organizations are factors considered important by the "Who's Who" authorities. Nominations are made by faculty committees in the college and universities throughout the United States.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will reverence and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us.

POLITICS—1946 STYLE

Tuesday, millions of Americans went to the polls and exercised one of democracy's most treasured privileges—the franchise. For centuries man has struggled for universal suffrage, but now that the goal has been attained in this country millions of people are too disinterested or too busy making money to take the trouble to vote. Even during the most heated campaigns, such as the contest in 1940 when the third term issue was paramount, only a little over half of the qualified voters turned out. An apathetic citizenry is not deserving of any better qualified officials and representatives than many of the mountebanks who are elected.

For several months rival candidates have been campaigning, hurling invectives at their opponents, and dodging issues. Seldom in our history has there been greater political bankruptcy, the absence of clearly-defined issues, and the presence of such strange "bed-fellows" in both major parties. It means little today for a candidate to say, "I'm a Democrat." To the contrary it is more pertinent for the voter to ask, "What kind of Democrat or Republican are you?"

One of the present stage bits on Broadway is a political satire entitled, "The State of the Union." During one of the scenes the remark is made that virtually there is no difference between the Republican and Democratic parties today. "Oh, yes there is," retorts one of the Old Guard. "They're in and we're out." When American politics deteriorate to the point where the only issue appears to be "The Outs" versus "The Ins," we are, indeed, in need of a rejuvenation by a strong third party which will restore principles and issues to the scene.

Because the above is so apparently true, the voter today particularly needs to know something more about a candidate than his party label. The voter who votes a straight ticket is very likely to play into the hands of the politicians whose records and qualifications are a disgrace to the community, state, or nation. Democratic government, in theory, is only as good as its poorest informed voter; it is only as strong as its weakest official.

One of the objectives of a college education is to prepare students for more effective participation and leadership in community life as good citizens. Good citizens vote, and vote intelligently. He who apologizes, "Oh, well, my poor little one vote doesn't make any difference" would do well to remember the following parable: For want of a nail a shoe was lost. For want of a shoe a horse was lost. For want of a horse a rider was lost. For want of a rider a battle was lost. For want of a battle a war was lost. For want of a war a nation was lost.

Thoughts For National Education Week

"And the truth shall make you free"—a quotation inscribed above the entrance to the Administration building—acquires a significance during National Education Week, November 10 to 16.

Education has made long steps from the early teachings of Plato, Socrates, and those first unforgettable educators, to our well equipped schools and universities of today. From that day to this there has been something in man that cries out for knowledge. Through the centuries he has struggled, grasping and retaining shreds of knowledge and great facts. Those gleanings of truth have struck off the shackles and chains of ignorance and released man from the bondage of superstition.

An ignorant people are weak. The fact that America today is strong, both mentally and physically, is due in part to methods of liberal education and to the ideals and efforts of teachers.

Therefore we dedicate ourselves to those who shape the personalities of our youth; to those who keep us free by teaching truths; and to those who mold the destiny of our nation and, perhaps, the world—the teachers of America.

—R. M.

From: The President
To : The Students

Just the listing of the topics for American Education Week starts a chain of thought that reveals the importance of education in this important era:

Practicing brotherhood
Building World Security
Facing new tasks
Developing better communities
Strengthening home life
Investing in Education
Promoting health and safety

College people have an important role to play in the affairs of today and tomorrow. When they accept their responsibilities as educated citizens in dealing with the problems that arise from consideration of each of these topics this will be a better world. Therein lies the hope of the future and the justification of all that is done in the name of education.

KNOW YOUR COLLEGE LIBRARY
Magazine Indexes

In your reference work you will find that magazines furnish valuable and up-to-date material, but unless they are indexed they are of little use because of the great number of magazines that appear weekly, monthly and quarterly. To make their wealth of information available, you will find certain periodical indexes which serve the same purpose as an index does in a book, or the card catalog does to the library's book collection.

Here are some facts you should know about the indexes to periodicals used in this library:

The most used index is the Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature, with the Education Index a close second. The Readers' Guide is published twice a month except in July and August when there is just one issue. The second issue each month includes what has been published in the first one as well as new material in one alphabet. This is true of three-month, six-month, and nine-month cumulations. The annual volume includes the entire year's indexing, thus taking the place of the paper numbers for the preceding year. A three-year cumulation supersedes three annual volumes.

The Education Index is published monthly except in July and August with an annual bound cumulated volume in June. A three-year cumulation includes three annual volumes. The library receives ninety-two of the periodicals indexed in the Readers' Guide, and eighty of those in the Education Index.

The arrangement of both these indexes is alphabetical, articles being entered under author and subject, and under title when necessary. Title entries are made for stories and plays, but titles of poems are grouped under the subject Poems.

Perhaps you are looking for the subject Atomic Bombs. The following is a typical entry:

Atomic bombs.
Atomic bomb and future war. H. W. Baldwin.
Life 19:17-18 Ag 20 '45.

Analyzing this entry, we have in order: subject, title, author, magazine (Life) volume, pages, date of magazine. For monthly magazines, like Harper's Magazine, we have: Harper 192:181-5 F '46, thus giving magazine, volume, pages and date.

You will notice that the names of magazines are abbreviated to save space. You will find the full names of all magazines indexed in the front of each issue, as well as a key to other abbreviations used in the entries.

You will find the Readers' Guide and Education Index in this library on the table at the right of the door as you enter the reading room, with a list of the magazines held on typewritten sheets in gray folders. You may consult a card file of the current magazines received at the charging desk. You probably have found the current periodicals on racks in the reading room and the more popular ones on the table at the left of the door. When calling for magazines from the stacks, you should give the name of the magazine, volume, and proper date. For your own use you should copy the pages of the article you want.

You are asked to use bound magazines in the library, but you may take unbound copies for one week, with a fine of one cent per day for overdue magazines. You are asked to use magazines with care as they are often irreplaceable. This has been particularly true during the paper shortage when only enough copies have been printed to supply regular subscribers.

Business Meeting.

At the Senate meeting of October 26, there was a continued discussion of the lack of school spirit. The Senate decided to give a pep rally for the boys before they left for the Cape Girardeau game.

November 12 was the date decided to have an open forum with representatives from all organizations present. At this meeting there will be a discussion of the sponsoring of pep rallies by different organizations for the boys when they leave town for the football and basketball games. If the organizations sponsor the pep rallies, there might be more school spirit created, according to the opinion of the members of the Senate.

A suggestion was made to have the chairman or a representative from the Social Committee meet with the Senate each time.

That prices of the school dances have been too high is the opinion of the Senate members. The suggestion was made to have a dance band only on special occasions and use a nickelodeon for all other dances. A discussion was held in regard to a program to be given also, as the dances alone were getting very monotonous. If a program is to be given the closing hour should be extended from twelve to one o'clock for these school activities.

Bob Davis, president of the Student Senate, appointed a committee to see Mr. Leslie Somerville about having the Book Store open on the nights of the school dances. The members of the Senate thought the open Book Store would draw a larger crowd to the school activities.

November 12 is the date of the next Senate meeting.

Industrial Arts Shop

Has Department Display

At the entrance to the machine shop there is a display of various tool operations and metal processes that were completed in the machine shop courses. Part of this display shows the step by step procedure of the making of threads on a metal lathe. There are about fourteen steps from the beginning round bar stock to the completed threaded product.

Similar steps in exercises showing the operations covered on the shaper and milling machines are illustrated in the rivet heads that were made for war purposes by the war production classes and small jeweler's screws that have swivel heads and blades having a diameter of .050 of an inch. Also on display are three thousand of these small jeweler's screw drivers made during the war by the Industrial Arts Department for the Rock Island Arsenal.

In addition to this well-planned display there is also a small display in the bench work, wood working shop, consisting of art metal, spinning, cement, wood carving, and small foundry projects, all made in the various shops in Industrial Arts.

With the addition of new and up-to-date equipment, more students are being attracted to this department. At present two hundred students report to this department daily.

Training Is Vital, Says

Agriculture Chairman

Training in the field of agriculture is as vital as training in any other field of endeavor, according to Mr. R. T. Wright, chairman of the College Agriculture department. He says that the idea that just anyone can farm with great efficiency is a theory that has already been disproved. Mr. Wright asserts that this situation is due to scientific developments and procedures that have made it practical to have training in order to be able to compete with other individuals.

New crops in new areas are often free from disease for a time, but sooner or later insects and disease come to these crops and thus more skill and attention is demanded as time goes on. The Agriculture department furnishes instruction concerning methods of meeting these problems of production in various fields.

In the Agriculture Department of the College there are courses that offer 85 hours at the present time, and only 25 hours are required for a major.

The numbers of juniors and seniors enrolled in this course is not great, but there are forty or forty-five freshmen and sophomores enrolled who have signified their intention of working for a degree in agriculture.

The number of tractors on farms in 1950 is likely to be at least 2,600,000, with figures projected to 3,600,000 if purchases are accelerated in the South.

Among new soybean products will be such items as cheese, edible adhesives, plastics, a wool-like fiber, and breakfast food.

If all the net profits of the manufacturing industries were added to wages, the increase would amount to less than 10 per cent.

There has been a 67 per cent rise in hourly wage rates paid in manufacturing since 1939.

The Stroller

The football trip to Rolla, though disastrous on the gridiron did result in some gay moments. When Mr. Surrey's auto incurred a flat tire while on the way down, John Lanham, Bearcat end, riding in the car, volunteered to jack up the wheel. John industriously began work and was reaching the limit on the jack when the Stroller asked him how long it would take to raise all four wheels. John was jacking at the rear of the car when the flat was on the front.

On the same trip, Mr. Surrey, returning with Coach Milner from Cape Girardeau, turned the wrong way on a highway outside of Rolla, and ended up five miles from St. Louis. He is blaming the highway department for not having signs posted, since Mr. Milner was asleep and therefore not a fit target for blame. They should have had the Stroller along, for he knows his way about.

Mr. Taylor was giving some facts on the expectancy of life. He had the statistics to prove that married men live longer than single men. What the Stroller wants to know is who was the fellow who said he heard that married men just SEEM to live longer?

Ever since Clyde Saville made that phone call to Chicago the Stroller has heard strange things. Even if there are no wedding bells at present, the Stroller thinks it is nice that the lady in question is paying the campus a visit.

A SOLDIER'S THOUGHTS

The sun is clear with the break of day
But the thoughts of this soldier are far away;
For in his heart, so strong and true,
Are thoughts of loved ones . . . you, and you . . .
His childhood pranks, and the games he's played,
And his first day at school, and the friends he's made;
His young, young days so long gone by,
The cute things he'd do, and how he'd cry
When night came on and Mother would say,
"Come on now, Sammy, that's all for today."
He remembers his sweetheart and her last kiss;
Their nights together and the fun they miss.
He thinks of the future and how he will live;
He thinks of your happiness, and what would be his.
He thinks of his loved ones far away,
And when he sees them, what he will say.
For a soldier's thoughts are more than a part
Of body and soul . . . they're his very heart!
And they are more than bullets and shells can reach;
They are nothing you read or that people teach.
They are not brought forth with a drum and fife,
But they are faith and hope, and a soldier's life.

—Roger Todd (English 11A).

Algebra Students Learn
Importance of Accuracy

Students in Miss Lane's Algebra 10 or Arithmetical 15 class, have been learning the desirability of getting 100 per cent of their examination questions correct. The students all have to take a test consisting of ten questions which must all be answered correctly. If the student fails to do this, he has to take the test over. He has to pass the test before he can pass the course.

Until a student has passed the test, he belongs to a group called the "illiterates." It is not unusual for a student to take the test twelve or thirteen times before he is able to answer all the questions right at one time.

Four From College Attend Sorority's Regional Meetings

Merilee Myers, Mary Garrett, and Miss Marjory Elliott of the Alpha Epsilon chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Miss Violette Hunter of the Maryville alumnae chapter, attended the Regional Meet held at the Palmer House in Chicago, October 19 and 20.

It is a custom of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority to hold these meets every three years. This year the various chapters throughout the country met according to their location, in one of six cities.

The group from Maryville left here Friday night by train and arrived in Chicago early Saturday morning. They went directly to the Palmer House to get ready for the pep rally and luncheon.

The Alpha Epsilon chapter had charge of the table decorations for this meeting. A pep rally was held, at which each chapter sang pep songs or gave yells. Miss Myers had charge of the meeting and introduced each chapter.

Saturday afternoon a business meeting was held at which there was discussion of the problems and activities of the chapters.

A formal dinner was given Saturday evening in the Palmer House dining room; later there were pledge ceremonies and initiation. The "Owl Hour" lasted from 11 p.m. on as long as anyone cared to stay up.

Sunday morning, Miss Myers had breakfast with Miss Mabel Lee Walton, national president, and all the other chapter presidents. The entire group met again Sunday morning for discussion and to conclude the activities of the regional meeting.

Mrs. Troy Cartwright of Denver, Colorado, the national treasurer, was the officer-in-charge of the meeting. There were 150 people there representing Tri-Sigma from Missouri, Wisconsin, Illinois, and Oklahoma.

The convention will be held next July at Williamsburg, Virginia. At that time members of Sigma Sigma Sigma throughout the entire country will be present. The city of Williamsburg is to be turned over to the sorority for the days of the convention.

Bonfire Gives Atmosphere When Independents Rally

The Cooperative Independents held a membership rally in College park Wednesday evening, October 30. Bonfires furnished the atmosphere for the evening's activities as the program opened with a song by Dorothy Smith. The group played several games under the direction of Ruth Wyatt.

Lee Drees narrated the story of "Sinbad the Sailor," with special effects furnished by a group led by Lilybelle Bucher.

A forum was held on the question, "Is there a need for an independent club at our school?" John Hengeler served as leader and discussed the topic, "The Independent and Leadership." "The Independent and Other Organizations" was considered by Glenn Hansford. Don Lyle spoke on "The Independent and Student Government." The fourth speaker, Frances Frazier, suggested several activities in her discussion of "The Independent and Social Life." Lee Drees talked about "The Independent and the College" as the final section of the forum.

A wiener roast was held after the forum. Elizabeth Thompson led the group in a community sing which concluded the program.

The evening's activities were planned by the program committee. Members of the committee are Sarah Harness, Ann Fay, Irma Lee Hull, Beverly McCowan, and Lavon Hepburn. Several members of the program committee were also in charge of the refreshments.

Mr. John Taylor and Mr. Leslie White, sponsors, were invited guests.

Sigma Sigma Sigmas Are Entertained by Pledges

The pledges of Sigma Sigma Sigma entertained the active members with a Halloween party in the Bear Cat Den Wednesday night, October 30.

The Den was decorated with cats, jack-o'-lanterns, and orange and black streamers.

The party started off when each girl found a dance partner by matching song titles. Later everyone was seated in a circle and the "remains of a man's body" were passed around as Margaret Fisher told a ghost story. The group played several games and then the apple-ducking began. A big panful of water was filled with apples, and the girls ducked for them. Most of them were successful in splashing too much water.

Refreshments of doughnuts and cider were served.

Miss Marjory Elliott and Miss June Cozine, sorority sponsors, chaperoned the group.

Halloween Fun Prevails When Guests Wear Masks

Indians! Bandits! Gypsies! Hoboes! Negroes! Clowns! Invasion of Bearcat Den! Lights out! Screams in the dark!

Robbery? Murder? Riot? No, the Varsity Villagers were just having a masquerade party. Guests at this frolic, October 24, from 8:00 to 10:00, were housewives, women living in houses in town, members of the independent club, Miss Catherine Phelps of the music department, and Miss Martha Locke, sponsor of the Varsity Villagers. Dorothy Smith was chairman of the invitation committee.

At the door guests were greeted—although the masks hid their identity—by Betty McCowan and Charlotte Spahnower. Within the den they were welcomed by Norma Snyder and Ruth Hartness. Beverly McCowan, chairman, Ann Fay and Lavonne Wescott provided the decorations.

The judges—Miss Phelps, Miss Locke, and two students from Greece—awarded the prize to Maurine Thomas for the most clever disguise. Miss Thomas attended the party as an Indian. The three runners-up were Charlene Hartness—a hobo, Louise Frisby—a negro, and Vanda Washburn—a hobo.

Seated in a circle on the floor in the darkened room, the group heard the fatal tale of a black cat, felt the remaining parts, and acted accordingly. Ruth Wyatt, chairman of the entertainment committee, Marguerite Hallach, and Lily Bell Bucher divided the group into three for the games. Pinning the tail on the cat, bobbing for apples, and various relays ended in a close score with the Number One group in the lead.

Irma Lee Hull, chairman of the food committee, and Mary Elaine Reece prepared the punch and cookies for the party.

FTA Club Discussion Held in Bearcats' Den

The Future Teachers' Club met Thursday night, October 31, in Bearcats' Den. Fourteen members and the sponsor, Dr. Ruth Lane, were present.

Mary Apley was in charge of the program. The topic was "A Great NEA Achievement." Evelyn Matter, Robert Gowing, June Pollock, Lorene Jensen, Myrtle Lee Burns, Flora Flores, and Miss Apley discussed the subject.

Robert Gowing presented the information he had obtained from Mr. J. W. Jones, president of the College, in regard to the chartering of a bus to take the F. T. A. group to the state teachers meeting in Kansas City tomorrow, November 8. Most of the members will attend the meeting.

The suggestion that the F. T. A. group go to the religious services in the Horace Mann Auditorium Sunday, November 3 was followed. Many members of this group were present at the service.

Refreshments of popcorn, candy, and apples were served by Dr. Lane.

Pi Omega Pi Would Have College Commerce Club

Members of the Pi Omega Pi were hosts to all commerce majors and minors at a party October 29, in the Bearcats' Den. The party was given for the purpose of organizing a Commerce Club at the College and affording students an opportunity to become acquainted with the faculty and other students.

Bulah Fern Mercer of Grant City, a senior who is majoring in business education, was selected as temporary chairman for the new club. She appointed G. V. Bottorff, Raymond Schardel, Nylene Luyt, Charlotte Spahnower, Jeanne Taylor, Una Claypool, Harold Baker, and Helen Fisher to meet and draw up the necessary request to the senate for the new Commercial Club.

Mary Apley was in charge of refreshments; and Betty Slobor, invitations.

Phi Sigma Epsilon Holds Dance to Honor Pledges

The Nu Chapter of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity held an informal dance in honor of the pledges at the Country Club October 19. Pledge paddles, hanging from the ceiling, featured the decoration. The fraternity crest was displayed over the fireplace and small Greek letters covered the wall lamps.

Music was furnished by Don Snyder's band. Jack Russell sang during intermission. Refreshments consisted of cider and small cakes.

Guests will be Mr. Herbert Dieterich, Mr. Sterling Surrey, the Reverend Arleigh Lassiter, Mr. John S. Taylor, and Mr. Lon Wilson. After the initiation, colored travel movies will be shown.

Sigma Tau Fraternity Holds Informal Initiation

Informal initiation stunts enlivened the evening at the last two meetings of Sigma Tau Gamma, as the fraternity actives sharpened their wits in preparation for the grand climax at the end of the quarter. "Many pledges now regret not learning the Greek alphabet earlier and more thoroughly. They discovered that alpha, beta, and gamma aren't as easy as a, b, c."

Hollis Voas, initiation committee chairman, has promised the boys an exciting week later in the month, when formal initiation will begin. Until that time they are marking time, wondering what the future holds.

Former Student, WAC, Sees Nuernberg Trial

Staff Sergeant Freda Barker, formerly of the WAC and a former student of the College, witnessed one of the sessions of the Nazi trials in Nuernberg.

According to the story by Phyllis Jean McCoppin in the St. Joseph News-Press, Miss Barker stated this was a "chance that every American in Germany dreamed of getting."

"It was not an easy thing to get permission to attend the trial," Miss Barker said. "Naturally all of us wanted to go, and all of us had requested orders to that effect. I just happened to be lucky and was among those in the office of military government in Berlin who received official orders into Nuernberg."

"The courtroom was large with tiered balconies packed full of curious spectators who were fortunate enough to get in. I have no idea how many people were there. The trial proceeded with the usual dignity of the court, and had we expected anything dramatic or outstanding, we would have been disappointed. The thrill was in the magnanimity of the situation and not in the actual activity about us."

"I was close enough that I had a good view of all the Nazis on trial. However, having never seen them before, it is hard to comment on their facial expressions and behavior."

Dramatics Club Meets

In a regular meeting of the dramatics club, October 23, John Ward was elected president. Mary Clark was chosen secretary - treasurer; Dick Palmer, publicity chairman; and Helen Sutton, social chairman.

Immediately following the election, Mrs. Romona Canton, club sponsor, described four one-act plays which were to be considered during the week-end.

On Monday, October 28, the play, "I'm a Fool," was read and discussed at a special meeting. On Wednesday, October 30, the plays "Winter Sun, set" and "Hog Business" were read.

Members of the club indicated an interest in the plays and, according to Mrs. Canton, tryouts will be held in the near future.

Queer Creatures Attend S. C. A. Hallowe'en Fun

Among the Halloween parties held in the Bearcats' Den during the past two weeks was a masquerade, Monday, October 21. There were present among the various characters, a delightful lass rather stoutly built, but a charming personality; a drunk—a quite obvious character, who could scarcely stand up; a blustering pirate; two sailors (officers); a clown; an old feeble lumberman; young ladies—bashful of course; Martha and George Washington, (they were nice guests); and a mysterious cat who strolled in a little late. Of the honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Garrett in full dress evening clothes. Dr. Irene Mueller, Mrs. Ramona Canton, and Miss Alta Carpenter.

John Ward concocted a rather queer story (a startling new commercial for "Vicks"), and after some games, refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served. There was dancing to music controlled by Jay Roberts. (Once he could hardly find his shoes.)

Kappa Omicron Phi Has Initiation Ceremonies

Initiation ceremonies were held in the Home Economics dining room on Monday afternoon, October 28. The five girls who were pledged are Gene Keown, Sharlyne Miles, Helen Lewis, Eloise Harryman, and Madge Miller.

Active initiation, that afternoon, was held for Phyllis Butts, Phyllis Combs, Mary Doran, Irma Lee Hull, and Mary Rockwell.

At six o'clock the girls were dinner guests of Miss June Cozine, sponsor of the organization. Miss Cozine is also the national president of Kappa Phi.

After dinner a short business meeting was held and plans were made for members of the group to attend the National Conclave which will be held in Kingsville, Texas, the last week in November.

Horace Mann Freshmen Model U. N. Conference

The freshman citizenship class at Horace Mann held a model United Nations Conference on Thursday and Friday, October 31 and November 1, in which they utilized their knowledge of Parliamentary procedure.

Each student represented a country and gave a brief address about his country. The assembly chairman was Charles Doran, and Shirley McGinness was secretary. The group is taught by Miss Rachael Taup, of the Social Science Department of Horace Mann School, and Evelyn Matter, a student teacher.

Sorority Has Mock Opera

Industrial Arts Courses Meet Needs of Students

The present enrollment in daily classes in the Industrial Arts consists of 135 college students and 65 training school students from Horace Mann High School.

The staff consists of Mr. Donald N. Vaik, chairman of the department, who is beginning his fourteenth year here; Mr. Kenneth Thompson; Mr. Howard Ringold; and Mr. David Crozier. Under the supervision of Mr. Crozier, Miss Lois M. Hollock, a directed teacher, has charge of a class of girls.

Mr. Crozier is a member of the department after his absence of three and a half years, the time which he spent in the U. S. Army. Mr. Crozier holds a B. S. degree from the College here with a major in Industrial Arts.

Primarily this department is conducting four divisions, these being General Drafting, General Wood Shop, General Metal Shop, and Elementary Industrial Arts.

Additional courses contemplated for immediate introduction are as follows: a new Crafts Course, a new Arc and Acetylene Welding Course, and an advanced Machine Shop Course.

The Agriculture Department plans to teach a course in Farm Mechanics using part of the Industrial Arts building as a class room.

Not only Industrial Arts teachers are being prepared in the courses, but other students are being accommodated, such as pre-engineering students, students in drafting and shop work, terminal students interested in specialization, elementary teachers in Elementary Industrial Arts, and many students interested in securing selective work in certain phases of shop work.

Interview Reveals Musical Interests

Memories too numerous to mention filled the mind of Mr. Willard Robb of the College music department when he was interviewed for this report on his varied career in music. He was puzzled in trying to find a suitable starting point.

Among the things he likes to remember is the success of the Lincoln High School Orchestra of Lincoln, Nebraska, in which he was solo flutist. That orchestra won, for three years in succession, the national high school orchestra contest.

Mr. Robb played with the Lincoln Symphony Orchestra for ten years. At the time he entered, he was the youngest member to be admitted to this orchestra. He was connected with the University of Nebraska R. O. T. C. Band and the Lincoln Municipal Band. He was also director of the 110th Medical Regiment Band of the 35th Division.

During his career in Lincoln, Mr. Robb worked with many famous musicians. Some of those include Howard Hansen, Reginald Stewart, Jose Turbi, Henri Pennis, Albert Spaulding, and Myra Hess.

Mr. Robb, in the course of his work, has had much to do with religious music. He was choir director and organist in the Vine Congregational church of Lincoln and is currently directing the Maryville Methodist choir.

Writing and composing have also come into prominence in the vocation and avocations of Mr. Robb. He has contributed to several national musical publications. An article, "Playing Opportunities After High School," drew considerable national comment.

He has composed two operas, "The Harvest Song" and "Twilight Saint," both of which have been produced. Several of his vocal compositions have been performed in Mexico City. He is now working on a new opera, "Joan of Arc."

During Mr. Ralph Hartzell's temporary absence, Mr. Robb is acting chairman of the Music department.

Mrs. Ova Miller Huff, a former student of the College, is now teaching the ungraded room in the Maryville public school. Last summer Mrs. Huff did missionary work in Oklahoma under the auspices of the Home Mission Board of the Baptist church.

Dr. Margaret Ruth Lowery, a former member of the faculty, spent the week-end visiting Miss Estella Bowman. Dr. Lowery, member of the English department of Washburn University, Topeka, attended the major entertainment at the College Saturday night.

Former Helen Anderson Comments Upon France

Mrs. Leon Alexandroff, known in Maryville as Miss Helen Anderson, a former teacher of Fine Arts at the College, has written of what she found in France upon her return with her husband to the home in Paris they had to abandon just before the Nazi occupation of the French capital.

Living expenses, Mrs. Alexandroff wrote, have gone up about ten-fold, though rents remain about as before the war. Many people she found in good circumstances, and women were never more clothes conscious than during German occupation and since.

"Suffering in France was grossly exaggerated," said Mrs. Alexandroff. She expressed the idea that newspapers had been responsible for over-emphasizing the need for help for "suffering France."

On the other hand, Mrs. Alexandroff, after spending five days in London, was appalled at the destruction there. She said she marveled at the fact that people there had withstood what they had gone through. "I also noted," she said, "that no one complained—quite the opposite in Paris."

George Schanzer, who was a student here and at the same time a teacher in Conception College, completed all his papers for American Citizenship and served in the intelligence service in Italy and in the Balkans during the war. Mr. Schanzer later returned to the United States and completed the work on his Master's Degree at the University of Missouri. He is now working on his Doctor's degree at the University of Iowa.

Johann Saemundsson, a graduate of the College, has completed the work for his Master's Degree at Columbia University and is now nearing the completion of his thesis.

Occupants of Hall Hold Open House for Parents

The women of Residence Hall had open house Sunday, October 27, for their parents. Phyllis Combs, president of the Council, was at the head of the receiving line. Others were Mrs. J. W. Jones, Mrs. M. C. Cunningham, Miss Martha Locke, Mrs. Nell Thompson.

The parlor of the Hall was decorated with fall flowers and the centerpiece on the tea table consisted of chrysanthemums. Flora Flores and Shirley Burger poured.

Grown-ups Take Role of Kindergarten Children

The Association of Childhood Education met in the Horace Mann Kindergarten Monday evening for an informal get-acquainted party for critic teachers and students.

The twenty-five members were placed in the role of kindergarten children, while the four primary critic teachers, Miss Neva Ross, Miss Hannah Lou Bennett, Miss Kathryn McKee, and Mrs. Lawrence Bass, acted as teachers. Miss Ross played the part of room teacher, while Misses McKee, Bennett, and Mrs. Bass were student teachers.

Several "problem" children were properly subdued by Miss Ross during conversation period. Following this Miss Bennett gave the children a choice of the following activities for work period: coloring, finger-painting, clay modeling, jungle Jim, big and little blocks, reading, play-house, work table. Surprising results were viewed by all at the end of the period.

It was then time for the guests to learn a Hallowe'en song taught by Mrs. Bass, who had a subtle way of making the pupils dispose of their gum. Miss McKee then read the story of Little Black Sambo and let the pupils dramatize it. In the Nursery room, apples and quantities of popcorn were served.

All said they had an enjoyable as well as profitable evening, having learned much in accordance with the activities and duties of an elementary teacher.

Mr. White Visits Schools.

Mr. Leslie White of the Geography department of the College visited some of the high schools in Holt county Thursday, October 31. He spent some time in the Forest City, Oregon, and Mound City high schools.

Don Barber, who graduated from the College last spring, was a guest at the Phi Sig house over the week-end. Don is teaching industrial arts at a school in Kansas.

News of Former Foreign Students

Miss Eva Marie Calix of Honduras, a graduate of the College, is teaching Spanish in Ursuline Academy in New Orleans. Her sister, Luz, has come to New Orleans from Honduras to study English in the academy there.

Miss Carmen Pages of Costa Rica, a graduate of the College, has been studying on her Master's Degree in the University of Southern California. She is writing her thesis on "The History of Education in Costa Rica." Miss Pages is teaching in a high school in Paula, California.

Bearcats to Play Final Game of 1946 Gridiron Season Friday

Team to Encounter Kirkville Bulldogs

Last Meeting of Bearcats With Bulldogs Brought Scoreless Tie.

In the final home game of the 1946 season the Maryville Bearcats will meet the Kirkville Bulldogs at the college athletic field at 8:00 P. M. on Friday. The Bearcats hope to extend their unbeaten string of home victories against Kirkville, but have been warned by head Coach Ryland Milner that it will take heads up ball playing to defeat the Bulldogs.

Kirkville defeated Springfield 26-19 a week after Maryville's 7-0 homecoming victory against the Bears. On paper, the Bearcats are stronger defensively, while Kirkville has more offensive potentialities. Cape Girardeau won 40-12 over Kirkville early in the year, and other schools have shown that the Bulldogs can be scored on often, but until the game is played no one can say with any degree of certainty what the outcome will be. In 1941 a Bearcat team, favored by 20 points, was held to a scoreless tie by a fighting squad of Bulldogs. That was the last meeting between the two schools.

M Club Alumni May Now Obtain Season Tickets

Discussion on the sale of season tickets to all former members of the organization desiring them was the chief topic at the October 21 meeting of the "M" club. The tickets, purchasable for one dollar by and for the use of any former member, are valid at all home athletic activities of Bearcat squads for the school year in which purchased. A committee consisting of Loyen Gutter, Ken Lepley, Vincent Meyers, and Tony Rizzo was appointed by Errol Myers, president, to work with sponsors, Mr. E. A. Davis and Mr. Lon Wilson, on a list of former "M" Club members to be contacted and notified of the privilege.

Other items discussed were the Constitution and By-Laws, and a social committee. The Constitution and By-Laws were approved by all, and a social committee of Robert Pick, Ned Bishop, Rex Adams, and Gene Flench was appointed.

President Myers commented on the success of Walkout Day and the organization's aid in the day's activities. The meeting then adjourned. The next regular meeting will be Monday, November 18.

Green and White Peppers Plan Special Activities

The meeting of the Green and White Peppers held Monday, October 21, began with the reading of the roll call and the minutes of the last meeting.

The new members of the Peppers were told they were to wear green knee socks, white blouses, white skirts, green hats, and a sign in the shape of a green pepper hanging down their backs for mock initiation.

A formal initiation will be held November 8 in form of a chili supper. Lenna Faye Jennings, Dorothy June Masters, and Barbara Munson were named as the committee in charge of the chili supper.

The Peppers sold hot dogs, coffee and doughnuts at the Maryville-William Jewell game, October 25. Beverly Johnson, chairman, Virginia Ann George, and Elaine Woodburn made up the general committee in charge of the concession.

Jean Stewart, president, made the foregoing announcements, and then adjourned the meeting.

Miss Bonnie Magill is sponsor of the Green and White Peppers.

Lawyer Speaks to Club of Veterans

Members Seek to Increase Attendance and Enlist Faculty Interest.

The Veterans' Club met in Room 103 at the College Monday evening, October 28, with two Maryville guests present.

Ted Woodward, founding president of the club last year and now on the staff of the Daily Forum, introduced Mr. Ray Weightman, local lawyer, formerly a lieutenant colonel with the Foreign Claims branch of the Judge Advocate's Department in the ETO, and later in charge of the claims headquarters in Washington, D. C. Mr. Weightman described his experiences while with him in France and Belgium. He said that many times local inhabitants would appear with a slip of paper, proudly displaying it as a written claim on the American government. It would be signed with a comic strip name, or something equally humorous and American. Mr. Weightman remarked that claims of this sort were usually paid because it was obvious that it was the work of some GI.

Gene "Tex" Polk, club president, read to the group a letter inviting all members to attend a chili supper at the Elk's Club, Friday, November 2, Dr. J. Thomas was slated as principal speaker. He was expected to answer any questions brought forth by veterans concerning the GI Bill of Rights. Dr. Thomas is a known authority on this legislative bill.

For the past few weeks the group has been interested in having those of the faculty who are veterans added to their list of sponsors. Mr. John S. Taylor, social science instructor, and Mr. E. O. Hammond, Vocational Adviser of the Veteran's Administration, were present at the meeting and accepted sponsorship posts. Mr. Sterling Surrey, chairman of the Commerce department, and Mr. Leslie W. White, geography instructor, although not at the meeting, sent their acceptance. Mr. Harold Nece and Mr. Leslie Somerville are original sponsors and will retain those posts.

A number of veterans present suggested a change in hours, or that additional time be added to the periods when GI's may purchase supplies at the College bookstore. It was reported that because of conflict with classes, many students have been forced to purchase materials from their own funds. Mr. Polk will confer with authorities soon.

At the close of the meeting Mr. Polk suggested that each member of the group should bring one veteran with him to the next meeting.

Victory Brings Maryville's Record to Three in Row Wins at Home.

Starting slowly but gaining momentum as the game progressed, the Maryville Bearcats defeated the William Jewell Cardinals Friday evening, October 25, on the home field, by a score of 20-0. The victory was the third consecutive for the Bearcats this season on the College athletic field.

The first quarter was largely a punting duel between John Lanham, Bearcat end, and Gargotta, Cardinal back. Lanham twice drove William Jewell back with long kicks after penalties had halted Maryville drives. Marvin Weed, Rex Adams, and Paul Gates advanced the ball to the William Jewell ten yard line in this period, but Gates fumbled at that point. The Bearcats' next scoring opportunity came near the end of the half, and this time they capitalized on it. Errol Myers, veteran guard, made a leaping interception of a Cardinal pass on Maryville's 43 yard line, and that started a fifty-seven yard touchdown drive. A penalty set the Bearcats back to their thirty, but Lanham drove a thirty-five yard pass from Gates and Paul Butcherus and Gene Pemberton ran the ball to the 5 yard line. With third down and goal to go Lanham took the ball from Butcherus on an end around and crossed the line just before he was driven out of bounds. Paul Wilson converted to make it 7-0 for the Bearcats at the half.

Maryville received to start the second half and went straight through to score without losing the ball. Stanley Totaratls received the short kickoff and ran it back to his own 25 yard line. Pemberton, Weed, and Butcherus ran the ball to the Jewell 27 yard line, from which point Pemberton sliced inside his own right end to go all the way for the second touchdown. It was the climax to a successful evening for the freshman from Cameron, Missouri, for his dashes were the reason for the first Bearcat touchdown and he was a consistent ground gainer every time he carried the ball. Wilson again converted.

In the last quarter Ken Lininger punted to William Jewell's 7 yard line. A poor kick gave Maryville the ball on their own 26 yard line. The ground attack stalled, but on fourth down Burton Ritchey passed to Lininger, who carried the ball to the one foot line. Alvin Wormsley, fullback, plunged for the score, but Wilson's kick for the extra point was low.

Coach Milner used substitutes most of the last half, and the play of Dewey Drennen at guard was most notable.

Random Shots . . .

Bill Bernau, little All-American halfback in 1939 while playing for the Bearcats, was a visitor over the week-end. "Bob" Gregory, guard on the 1939, 1940, and 1941 squads here at Maryville, was also in town. "Bill" saw the William Jewell game from the bench, and probably thought often of days gone by, days when he thrilled local fans with his outstanding play.

John Lanham gave one of the finest all-around performances of the year. The hustling end not only played a vicious defensive game, but he also kicked beautifully and scored the first touchdown on a sweeping end-around play.

Coach Milner's boys opened up their passing in the Jewell game more than any previous game this year, and for the first time this season there was a drive for the running game. When their offense bogged down they twice completed passes on decisive plays. Gates hit Lanham for thirty-five yards and Ritchey threw twenty-five yards to Lininger to set up touchdowns.

William Jewell had a tight defense and held the Bearcats even until Butcherus and Weed began crashing through on quick opening plays and Pemberton began his quick thrusts off the T or on reverses. On one occasion Pemberton swept fifteen yards around left end behind good blocking, and on another nearly broke in to the open on a slice off tackle. His dash of 27 yards for the second touchdown came suddenly off that T, and on that play he cut sharply inside the safety at the ten to score standing up.

Stanley Totaratls, dependable as always, played his usual great game despite a badly bruised shoulder. Totaratls plays the game the only way he knows how, and plays every minute as hard as he can though he is often called upon to play the whole 60 minutes.

Paul Wilson missed his third attempt at an extra point in the Jewell game, his first miss in six attempts this year.

The Cardinals made eight first downs but gained only 76 yards on the ground against the Bearcats' line.

With Charles Scruby out with an injury Paul Butcherus alternated at fullback and tailback, and his hard running aided greatly the touchdown drive at the beginning of the third quarter.

Bruce Peters and Scruby were both back out for practice last week. Peters hurt his jawbone in a practice session just before the Jewell game.

Thirty-four players saw action in the William Jewell game, and about thirty of the week before. The day of the sixty minute man is about gone.

Coach Milner unveiled a new spread offense against Cape. This Friday the home fans will get a look at it against Kirkville, if deemed necessary.

The last home game of the season is Friday. The Bearcats will be risking a perfect home record when they take the field against Kirkville. The three previous encounters have found the green and white on the long end of the score.

Cubs Lose to Pickett in 275 Conference Game

The Horace Mann Cubs suffered a 34 to 0 defeat at the hands of the experienced Pickett Cardinals in a 275 conference tilt played at Pickett, October 25. The outcome was never in doubt as Pickett scored in each of the first three quarters.

Battling for second place in the six man football conference, the small but scrappy Cubs failed to make their plays click until the last quarter when they drove the length of the field only to be turned back at the one foot line.

Pickett crossed the Cub's goal line early in the first quarter on a tricky double pass, Boyer to Houpp to Ellis. The attempt for the extra point was no good.

The second quarter saw the Shifty St. Joseph quarterback, R. Ellis, figure in the scoring again when he flipped a pass to Sollars who galloped 35 yards for another 6 points. Ellis' second pass, this time to Haup, was good for the conversion point. At half-time the Cubs trailed by a score of 10 to 13.

The third quarter clinched the game for the Cardinals and ended the scoring. Early in the third period Ellis slipped through the Cub line and into the backfield where he partially blocked a pass, scooped it up, and dashed 35 yards for his team's third touchdown. Clay drop-kicked the conversion, adding two more points to the total.

Pickett tallied their fourth touchdown when Boyer, Cardinal fullback, broke through the Cub line, evaded the secondary, and raced the remaining 20 yards for a touchdown, climaxing a sustained drive the length of the field. The attempt for the extra point failed.

The scoring ended after Ellis climaxed another drive by marking up his third touchdown of the day. Boyer passed to Houpp for the final point.

The fourth quarter saw the Cubs, sparked by Kinman and Hutson, threaten consistently but fail to push the ball across the goal line.

Last week the Cubs played host to the powerful Oregon club in a battle to determine third place in the conference. The game was played under lights on the College field Friday night, November 1.

The Starting Line-ups:

Horace Mann	Position	Pickett
Walker	RE	Sollars
Schaefer	C	Shipley
Doran	LT	Hutson
Hutson	QB	Shipley
Fisher	HB	Clay
Kinman	FB	Boyer

Substitutions: Horace Mann — Carmichael, Lee, and Howard; Pickett — Schellhorn, Wheat, Wilkins, and Helzberger.

Officials: Shier and Reece.

She has served as president of the Student Christian Association, as a representative to the Hollister conference of S. C. A., and as a member of the Tower staff. She is also a member of the college chorus, the Dance Club, and the Northwest Missourian staff. Miss Neill's major is English, and she expects to teach after receiving her degree next spring.

Three Join Social Science Faculty

The Social Science Department has three new members on its faculty: Mr. John S. Taylor from the University of Illinois, teacher of social science; Mr. Myron P. Rose, from the University of Illinois, teacher of economics; and Miss Rachael Taul of Cornell University, supervisor of social science in the Horace Mann High School.

Health Department

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Health Department of the College is furnishing material for this column, which is to be more or less a regular feature in the Northwest Missourian. The attention of students and faculty—in the interest of health—is directed to the column, which from time to time will have vital announcements or helpful suggestions as to care of the health.

The Health Department is in charge of Mrs. Ruby Brightwell, R. N., who has been on the campus a year. Mrs. Brightwell's offices are located on the second floor of the gymnasium, and she is on duty here from 9:00 a. m. until 12:00 o'clock noon and from 1:00 p. m. until 5 p. m. She resides at Quad 2 and is on call there for emergencies which arise among the men of the student body. Mrs. Anna Wormsley, R. N., who came to the campus at the beginning of the fall term serves as Mrs. Brightwell's assistant. Mrs. Wormsley's offices are located in the Horace Mann School. She resides at Residence Hall and is on call for the women of the student body.

A new health program has been formulated for the year, and it can be a success only with the cooperation of the entire student body. The first task undertaken by the nurses was to give to every enrolled student a physical examination. It has now become a regulation that no student will receive his grades until he has had this physical examination. Students who have not yet had this examination may report to the Health Office at the gymnasium or may call for appointment.

The second item to receive attention on the health program is the patch testing for tuberculosis. This test is available to all students who wish to have it, at no cost to the student. Tuberculosis is most prevalent in the age group in college; so it is the wise student who will make sure he is free of the disease.

A new service is being offered by the health department this year. All students who are subject to frequent colds and sore throats may be benefited by receiving cold serum. The nurses of the health department will give this serum to students provided they do the following:

1. Go to the family physician for written permission to take the serum.
2. Bring the permit to the College nurse, who will then recommend the serum to buy at the drug store and will give all the necessary shots.

From an enrollment of 756 students, 533 physical examinations have been completed.

Warning to the 223 who have not yet been examined: A last minute rush will not be permitted.

Hints: When you have symptoms of oncoming illness, see one of the College nurses immediately. This will save you days in bed. If the nurse puts you to bed stay there and follow her instructions. When asked to report to the health office, do so. If hospitalization is necessary for any student, the school nurse must be notified first.

Attention Veterans: Please check your dog-tags for blood type and notify the health office of your type.

University Coach Finds Former Bearcats Helpful

In the first week of basketball practice at the University of Missouri Coach Wilbur Stalcup has announced a tentative first string squad which includes two men who formerly attended the College, where Mr. Stalcup was once coach.

Karl R. Pierpoint of Quitman, who attended the College a short while before entering service, is among the twenty-two men named by Mr. Stalcup from a list of more than one hundred candidates.

Also named on the A string is John Rudolph of Atchison, Kas., who played basketball for Stalcup at the College before entering the army. Mr. Rudolph left the College with the group of Enlisted Reserve Corps men.

Mr. Stalcup has as one of his assistant coaches Harold Hull, who is well known to Maryville basketball fans, having played on the Maryville high school state championship team and the Bearcat team.

Mr. Hull also played professional basketball for the Goodyear company before entering the navy service.

Cape Indians Beat Bearcats

By EMMETT KELLY
Cape Girardeau, Mo.—(Special)—The Cape Girardeau Indians maintained their undefeated record and kept leadership in the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association here last night, doubling the Maryville Bearcats 7 to 0. But they had to go a full 59 minutes to do it as two great lines challenged each other on a soggy field in intermittent rain.

Both teams worked on the prize of a punt and a prayer. The punts were plentiful, but the breaks they hoped for showed up for neither team. The Bearcats drove to the Cape 5-yard line in the third quarter and had four downs to make a touchdown, but a substitute Cape tackle, James Crawford, entered the ball game and dashed their hopes.

Bearcats Stopped

Crawford, overanxious on his play, went offside, moving the ball from the 10 to 5. He soon redeemed himself. On first play Crawford again stopped Charles Scruby for no gain. On the next play he drove through again to drop Paul Wilson back to the eight. He did it again on the third down, stopping Marvin Weed for no gain. Wilson dropped back for a field goal attempt from Cape's 18. Crawford again broke through to partially block the attempt, ending the threat.

The drive started on a punt return by Weed and Scruby took it down the field.

Use an Old Play

Cape's score came in the final minute of play. Johnny Griffith returned a punt to the Maryville 45. Webb Halbert drove to the 32 on a line play which was followed by the ancient Statue of Liberty with Griffith going to the 10. Cape's backfield was in motion, setting it back to the 15. Halbert in four plays scored the touchdown with Joe Brubaker kicking the extra point.

The victory left the Indians at the top of the M.I.A.A. standing with one more game to play, that with Southwest Missouri State at Springfield two weeks hence.
